Need Help ? Just Ask !

Are there additional items or services you'd like GSA to provide?

Are you satisfied with delivery provisions on Federal Supply Schedules? Do you need help in the use of schedules?

Can we help you better understand GSA programs in supply, travel and transportation, or property utilization?

We want to better serve your needs. Just ask us, and we'll do our best to help. Phone your GSA Customer Service Officer (CSO) or Customer Service Bureau. If you don't know your local CSO, phone our national Customer Liaison Office on (FTS) 557-8600 and we'll tell you.

Save Federal Dollars---Excess Personal Property

GSA personal property managers are prepared to save your agency money in two ways. We will accept your excess and surplus office furniture or equipment to save you storage space and costs. Then we will transfer, sell, or donate this unused property. One agency's excess may be just what another agency needs. In that event, GSA makes the transfer possible. If no Federal agency needs the item, GSA donates to either an organization, State, or local government, or sells to the general public.

Area utilization officers and personal property staffs in each Customer Service Bureau (CSB) are striving to transfer, donate, or sell personal property within 120 days after receipt. If you have property needs--either excessing or acquiring--call your CSB today.

New Automated System

* Best Freight Rates and Routes economical method for from Kansas City to

as from the office to your regional office without spending more than is necessary?

GSA will soon have a fully automated freight rate and routing capability to provide you the answers to these questions in a matter of minutes.

Each Customer Service Bureau (CSB) will have a computer terminal on-line to a master data base to compare rates and routes to pass the savings on to you.

The master data base includes more than 25 million rates for approximately 17,000 transportation carriers serving nearly 100,000 cities and communities throughout the 50 States. The file contains rates for principal motor, rail, small package express, and air freight carriers. This new service will enable GSA to consistently identify the lowest available rates. The system is expected to be in operation this month.

Contact your CSB to take advantage of these rates and routing services--and save!

GSA Hotel/Motel Directory Lists New Travel Conveniences

The sixth edition of GSA's Federal Hotel/Motel Discount Directory is at the printer.

New features include:

- Rates effective for a year, rather than six months
- Lodgings in foreign and domestic cities
- Highlighted accommodations for food, transportation, and accessibility for the handicapped
- Information on other GSA travel programs

The directory lists more than 3,500 hotels/motels in more than 1,200 cities. Agencies may ride GSA's printing requisition in accordance with U.S. Government Printing Office guidelines for headquarters and field office needs.

Contact your agency administrative services or printing official to determine if orders have been placed for your agency.

More On Express Deliveries...

The Department of Defense (MTMC) accepted a tender of rates from DHL Airways, Inc. on November 15, 1983, with same provisions and rates as the GSA contract for express small packages and letter delivery service for civilian agencies.

This service is designed to save tax dollars when Government shipments are urgent and require overnight delivery service. However, letters are restricted as described in the FPMR Temporary Regulation A-23, published in the Federal Register on November 30, 1983.

Contact your Customer Service Bureau for more information and request a copy of the brochure on the "how tos" of this expedient and inexpensive service.

Furniture Price Bulletin

Notice

This bulletin supersedes the February 1983 issue and should be used with the GSA Supply Catalog, Customer Assistance Guide and supplemental publication/notices. Additional copies of price bulletins are available from:

Special Order Program

The Office of Federal Supply and Services maintains a program for executive agencies, which allows them to obtain items not included in either the stock or schedule programs. Special procurements of definite quantity requirements or items with a known recurring need are made for direct delivery to the consignee agency. Except when the total value of a required line item is less than $100, the GSA is a mandatory source of supply. The GSA, however, will supply requirements under $100 when requested.

1. REQUISITIONS, BILLING, AND LEADTIME: Special Order and Stock Program requisition and billing relationships are the same, but Special Order Program requirements are placed with contractors for direct delivery to customers, rather than being shipped from GSA stock. Customers should plan for 135 day leadtimes and send consolidated requirements. A pattern of a minimum number of orders for large quantities will produce the greatest economies for the Government. Expediting of urgent requirements may be possible. Point of contact is the Inventory and Requisition Management Division, (703) FTS 557-2641.

2. SMALL REQUIREMENTS SURCHARGE: In order to obtain reasonable prices, a $20 surcharge for processing and shipping orders with a net value under $250 will apply. A note about this charge will appear on purchase orders.

Customers can expect requisitions to be consolidated on a single order to the same contractor where requisition documents have matching activity address code, contract number, consignee, supplementary address, billing office, and signal code.

3. FURNITURE WARRANTY (QUALITY COMPLAINTS): Furniture under the Special Order Program is warranted for 14 months from date of shipment by vendor. This includes furniture shipped both within and outside the continental United States. Contractors must mark "WARRANTED ITEMS - IF DEFECTIVE CONTACT GSA" on shipping containers, on removable tags on the items, and on the permanent label on items. Customers should notify GSA of defective furniture by submission of Standard Form 368, Quality Deficiency Report, to the appropriate Zonal Contract Management Division (see the following list) that serves the geographical area where the material is located.

Valid warranty claims can be resolved by repair, replacement, or reimbursement of 90 percent of the original purchase price, as determined by GSA.

4. INSPECTION SHIPMENTS: Shipments should be carefully examined for damage, shortage or over-age and to ensure that correct items were received. IMPORTANT - notification of concealed transportation damage must be provided within seven (7) days of receipt to protect the Government's rights under the contract. All packaging involved with concealed damage must be saved for examination by the carrier.

Reminder - Items No Longer Supplied

Some customers have experienced difficulty in filling their requirements for furniture no longer supplied by the GSA. In an attempt to relieve this problem, alternate items were presented within the "Special Notice to Ordering Offices" publications and requisitions for unavailable or non-procurable items returned for reselections.

Although the frequency of requests for non-supplied items has been significantly reduced, some confusion as to what should be ordered still exists.

Consequently, the following summarizes and updates the non-procurable items list and identifies alternate items to be selected. Requisitions received for non-procurable items have been and will be rejected with a "CA", "CK", or "CJ" status, as appropriate.

Also, please note that because of the excessive costs and the economies associated with consolidating compatible lines of furniture, General Office Wood Desks and Chairs will no longer be supported. Customers are encouraged to order alternate items of Contemporary or Traditional style steel office furniture.

DESK ATTACHMENT BRACKETS: We previously reported that to keep costs down, a change to the connector for contemporary desks and attachments has been made. It allows attachment of commercial items from different manufacturers without changes to their furniture. However, this furniture will not be interchangeable with furniture previously in the system without adapter connectors which we will stock so that old and new furniture can be used together. The NSN is 7110-01-142-5678 and the bracket can be ordered from GSA stock.

REMINDER: A $20 surcharge will be applied on orders with a net value under $250. See the GSA Supply Catalog, pg. 370 for details.
